Supreme Court

The Supreme Court opened yesterday before Judge Stuart. The criminal cases will be tried by Judge Stuart and the civil cases by Judge Ross on the 23rd. The cases are:
Criminal cases—
Rex v. Wilson, Lacombe, arson case.
Rex v. M. Jackson, Stealing near Evans.
Rex v. Johnson, Rex v. Heine, Charge of attempting to procure abortion at Edville.
Rex v. Carlson, Murder near Castor. This may stand over.
Rex v. Kelly, Attempt to murder.
Rex v. Raven, Theft near Lacombe.
Rex v. Penfold, Obtaining money under false pretences near Compton.
Rex v. Belanger, Stealing horses at Kirkpatrick Lake.
Civil Cases—
Dehling v. Bucknell, From Lacombe.
Dallaire v. Dominique, Action for money received as guardian.
McKerhon v. Paris, Action over stallion deal.
Rex vs. Belanger came up first. The case was laid over to spring court, Belanger being allowed to go on his own recognisance, but Crown may call for other securities at any time.
"HAS ANYONE SEEN KELLY?" Judge Stuart called for Kelly, but no Kelly could be found. The police were finally located in the town office with his prisoner. The trial took most of the day. He was tried on four counts, including intent to murder and robbery. He was found guilty on all four counts, after the jury was out an hour and ten minutes. Judgment was reserved.

Delburne

Mr. Land returned to town on Thursday from his home in Pine Lake.
Rev. Mr. Coatsworth spent the early part of the week in Red Deer. Mr. Sihorne, of Alton, was a visitor at Mr. Tate's in Delburne last Friday.
Mr. Ward, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Little, left for his home in Essex recently.
Mr. Sidney Smith's mother, who resides with her son and his family, is suffering at present from a very severe illness.
A few days ago a man went through Delburne with a number of horses which he was taking through from McLeod to Stettler.
Delburne seems alive and bustling after this week. Teams are at work hauling coal from the collieries a few miles north of here and delivering it to customers in town.
Both the weather and sleighing being in perfect condition, and some of our townfolk are making good use of it, and this week there has been a number of sleighing parties.
Word has just been received from headquarters regarding our new depot that sounds encouraging and will doubtless interest our townfolk especially. Delburne is to have a splendid new station very soon, and the authorities are now busy arranging plans for the building.
On Wednesday afternoon last a citizen of near Quill Lakes was in town having his foot treated for frost-bite of a most serious nature. It seems that while making an attempt to cross Quill Lakes on the ice, the latter gave way. Driver and team alike went under and all miraculously escaped drowning. When the driver reached Delburne both his feet were badly frozen and, after Dr. Trotter had dressed them, the patient was sent to Stettler hospital for an indefinite stay. Besides being excessively painful a frost-bite is slow in healing and great care is essential all the while. From snatches of talk I am under the impression that before a great while Delburne will have a hospital of her own to take care of her own patients.

Curling Notes

Jesse Halstead has accepted the position of caretaker for the curling rink for the present winter, and ice will be ready for the curlers the early part of the week.

The executive committee met Monday afternoon and re-elected all last year's skips, together with Robt. Pearson, W. J. Stephenson, James Mann, A. R. Gibson, Judge Lee and W. P. Landon, making 22 skips. Last year's skips were: A. T. Stephenson, R. B. Welliver, Dr. Plaxton, H. Welliver, T. A. Gaetz, H. L. Gaetz, Hugh Clarke, George Lindsay, F. W. Galbraith, W. E. Payne, J. A. Carswell, Capt. Cottingham, J. W. Butterill, S. N. Carscallen, Mark Hanna, Rev. Brown. There will be a meeting to pick out the rinks in a few days.

Remember the millinery sale of Mrs. Jarvis'. Everything must be cleared before leaving for the east.

Farewell Banquet to J. H. Menzies

Popular Bank Manager Goes to Toronto

About fifty of the leading citizens of Red Deer met Friday evening at the Alberta Hotel to do honor to J. H. Menzies, the popular manager of the Northern Crown Bank, on the eve of his departure for Toronto to take a very high position in the Bank at that point, and to express the great loss sustained by the town on his removal. Mr. Lyons, assistant manager of the Bank, was also banqueting at the same time, as he left Saturday for Cranall, Man., to take the management of the Bank at that point.
The speakers during the evening expressed the keenest regret at Mr. Menzies' departure, as he was a good citizen and had made many staunch friends during his residence in town. He has served as alderman on the Council and the Mayor spoke of the great benefit he had been to the town as a financier, and he had hoped to see him fill the Mayor's chair. The management of the Great West Lumber Company by Mr. Menzies was an other strong feature of the addresses during the evening, as he has succeeded in putting the company's business on a strong financial basis and making it one of the best paying concerns in the province. This alone has been a heavy strain on his health, and he received the grateful thanks of the citizens for the great benefit he has been in, assisting in the rebuilding of the town in this respect, as it is generally admitted the Great West Lumber Company is the greatest industry we have in Red Deer today.
The chair was occupied by Dr. John Collier, who briefly explained the object of the gathering and expressed his sincere regret at the departure from town of Mr. Menzies. The toast list opened with "The King," to which the company responded by singing the National Anthem.
"Our Banking Institutions" was coupled with the names of W. L. Gibson and P. M. Hocking.
"The Town of Red Deer" was responded to by ex-Mayor R. L. Gaetz and Alderman Carscallen.
"Alberta" was responded to by F. S. Simpson, Clerk of the Supreme Court, and E. Michener, M.P.P.
"Our Mercantile Interests" brought H. H. Gaetz and W. E. Lord to their feet.
"The Legal Profession" was coupled with the names of G. W. Greene and Mr. Robinson.
Mayor Welliver made a most impressive address in proposing the toast "The Guests of the Evening," to which Mr. Menzies made a most eloquent and suitable reply. Mr. Lyons also made a brief speech, and J. M. Campbell, the new manager, was also called on to give a short address.
"The Ladies" was responded to by Messrs. Cunningham and Seymour, and "The Press and Publicity" was responded to by Messrs. Davidson, Galbraith and Carswell. After a brief address from Capt. Cottingham, the meeting came to a close by the company singing All Lang Syne.
Altogether, the banquet was one of the most interesting and instructive ever held in the town. E. Michener's address and those of H. H. Gaetz, Commissioner Davidson and Mayor Welliver were listened to with much attention. The brief reply of Mr. Menzies bore an undercurrent of sadness which visibly affected the audience, and showed his heart to be in the right place. He can rest assured the best wishes of the people of Red Deer, including the News, go with him to his new home in the east.

Penhold

Lord's Day Alliance

The annual meeting of the Lord's Day Alliance, Red Deer branch, was held in the Presbyterian church, Thursday evening, at 8 p.m. In the absence of Bro. Mott, Rev. Brown acted as chairman. Meeting opened by reading a portion of scripture, after which Rev. Pearson sang in prayer. Minutes of last annual meeting, also report of executive for year ending Oct. 31, 1911, were read by Mr. McVicar, Secretary, and, motion, both were approved. Mrs. Greene, treasurer, read the financial statement for the year, which was found to be very satisfactory. Amount received for the year was $110.35. There were also small sums forwarded to the Treasurer which did not pass through her hands. In absence of Auditor Mann, Miss Julia McKinnon audited the Treasurer's books, which were found to be kept correctly. The report was adopted. I. Rora, Brown and Pearson and John McVicar made appropriate remarks regarding the importance of laying solid foundations for the province by keeping the Sabbath as a day of rest and also as a sacred day. The following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year:
Hon. President—E. Michener, M.P.P.
President—Mr. Mott.
Vice Presidents—The ministers of the town.
Secretary—John McVicar.
Treasurer—Mrs. Greene.
The following were appointed, one from each church, to act as the executive: Methodist—Jas. Youmans, Baptist, E. R. Hill; Anglican, Carl Tomason; Presbytery Lin, Mr. Long; Collectors—Methodist, Miss Lily Smith; Baptist, Miss Baker; Anglican, Miss Pidgeon; Presbytery, Miss Barnett.
The Lord's Day Alliance for Red Deer are pleased at the excellent work Rev. C. H. Huestis is doing as Field Secretary for Alberta and British Columbia. Meeting closed by prayer and the benediction.

"Madame Sherry"

The clamoring demands of the play-going public of the country has forced the owners and producers of "Madame Sherry" to send on tour the alternate New Amsterdam Theatre Company which, with its companion organization, has been playing to overflow audiences at the New Amsterdam Theatre, New York, since the late summer. All New York authorities are agreed that no such sensational musical comedy successes have been scored by a native production in the past twenty years. Karl Hoschna is the composer of "Madame Sherry." The book was furnished by Otto Hauerbach. In its original French form the piece was a rage in Paris, and an English version produced by George Edwards at the Apollo Theatre, London, was the furor of an entire season. At present all New York is attending the production which bids fair to remain at the New Amsterdam Theatre, the largest of the New York Broadway playhouses, until the close of the present season and perhaps longer. The production is remarkable in many ways. The New York newspapers acclaimed it as a memorable advance in material and form over any native predecessor. Most of its airs are already current throughout the world, reports to the publishers of the score aver that "Every Little Movement Has a Meaning All Its Own," the theme number of the work, is as popular today in San Francisco, London, Paris, Vienna, Berlin and Sydney, Australia, as it is in New York.
At the Lyric Theatre, Friday, Nov. 24th.

Western Results

Commenting on the western election returns, the Toronto News says: Ill-tempered Liberal papers—and they are not few these days—declare that Ontario has prevented the Western farmer from enjoying his glorious birthright: to sell produce where he likes and buy goods where he pleases. Saskatchewan and Alberta endorsed the Laurier Government, therefore we are asked to believe that the people of these provinces were consumed with a wild passion for reciprocity. Before accepting wholeheartedly this theory it may be well to look at Manitoba, where the Grain Growers' Association is particularly strong. There we find a majority against the Liberals—even if the Winnipeg seat is excluded from the reckoning. Rural Manitoba, in spite of the vicious campaign in favor of reciprocity, declined to endorse the agreement.

In 1908 Saskatchewan recorded a Liberal majority 5,354, an average of 932 for each of the nine seats carried. In 1911 the popular majority increased to 18,212, and the average to 2,023. In Alberta the Liberal majority in 1908 was 2,667, increased in 1911 to 7,426 and the average rose from 1,000 to 1,713. These figures seem to be important until the record in Manitoba is taken into account. Some reciprocity sentiment existed undoubtedly, but it was not nearly so great as some would have us believe.

Take the one constituency of Moose Jaw, for instance, where Mr. Knowles had a majority of 8,392. That is close to the average of 2,021 above cited. It may be supposed that the 1908 majority was near the other figure of 932. That is an increase of about 1,100. But Moose Jaw has no less than 435 polling places. The increase represents less than three votes for each subdivision. If there was a great sweep of reciprocity feeling the majorities should have been much larger.

It must be remembered that in such a constituency as this the government appointed nearly 1,000 paid election officials. This distribution of patronage, assisted by the work of those political agents, who for fifteen years had been appointed to government office in the West, had no unimportant bearing on the result. Further, now settlers, who have been in close touch with various government officials, are likely to be influenced by them to stay on the government side. Within the past few days no less than four Conservatives have been elected to the Alberta Legislature.

Election figures always are elusive data. Certainly they do not form a solid foundation for the erection of batteries of jealousy and anger against Ontario.

The Minister of the Interior Alright

The Editor of the Rocky Mountain House Echo Gives Him Good Send-Off.

The Hon. Robt. Rogers is the new Minister of Interior, and R. L. Borden is to be congratulated on placing him in that position. We are, as a personal friend of his, in a position to know that he is a man, and that he will try to do all he can that is best for Canada. Bob can tell you about the hardships the pioneer homesteaders of Manitoba had to contend with, he has watched "that Province change from bushland and prairie to fields of waving grain, and he has held the axe and plow handle that does it; he knows the pleasure there was in living in the old sod but Bob had always one great aim, and that was to go to Ottawa; and he has reached, the goal at the age of 47 years. He has been Minister of Public Works in Manitoba since 1900, and he has there shown his worth as a public man to the country. R. L. Borden has picked out his Cabinet, and if they are all as good men for the country as Hon. Robt. Rogers he will have a Government that cannot be beat, either in this or any other country, for Bob never forgets that the man who keeps the inhabitants of the world from rage and starvation.

Delburne

The citizens of Delburne intend organizing a Board of Trade to look after and further the interests of the town.

John McHardy made a business trip to Red Deer this week.

Shuttleworth Bros., of Red Wing, were in town this week on business.

Mr. Kent, of Content, and Mr. Fleet drove over to Delburne last Saturday.

Mr. Tate, of Tate and Paxton's general merchandise store here, came over from Alix on Monday. He will remain in Delburne this week. Mr. Paxton of the same firm returned to Alix on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Cook and handchild left today for Oklahoma to stay for the winter. Their intention at present outlook is to make the return trip next spring (some 3000 miles) a driving tour.

We extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. William Armstrong upon the arrival this week of a fine baby boy. Messrs. Newburn and Mielke went deer-hunting one afternoon recently and, besides bringing back some venison to Delburne, they also returned with frozen feet. However, the latter was a mere trifle and they have since recovered entirely.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie McLean are having their house renovated, and are it is completed they purpose adding a veranda.

Homer Tracy, of Louan, was in town Saturday at A. Ferrell's.

Messrs. Kent & McLean have let the contract for having a wall dug in the Delburne Library Barn.

A very pretty house wedding, and one of particular interest to Delburne people, took place last Friday afternoon, November 10th, at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Patterson, when their daughter Jessie was married to Samuel Macdonald. Rev. Mr. Bowen of Springfield tied the knot. Both of the contracting parties are near residents of Delburne and were the recipients of a host of wedding presents, which tend to show the esteem in which they are held. The bride, a winsome blonde, and daintily gown in blue silk, was assisted by Miss Rose Ann Blair, who wore brown silk. James Blair, brother of Miss Blair, was best man. Among the invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. U. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Kuffler, Mr. and Mrs. James Bell, and Miss Ratcliffe. The wedding party partook of a sumptuous supper after the ceremony, and in the evening all the young people in the community came to join in the merry dance and wish the young couple a long and happy married life.

And you will find that not one of them waited until "ready" before buying

Perhaps not more than one person in a thousand ever really got "ready" to buy a home.

It is the task of home builders to make home owning possible to all to whom rent-paying is possible:

This is, of course, not altogether accomplished as yet—but we are getting nearer to it. Just now, the chances are that you can buy your own home—that you can get just what you want, at the terms you can meet. Perhaps this is it:

A DARING LADY AERONAUT

It is a curious fact that the Hon. Mrs. Asaheton Harbord, who recently placed another long balloon voyage to her credit by making a perilous voyage to France, became a balloonist by accident. In 1906 she went to see some friends off who were making an ascent, and at the last moment they suggested that she should go with them. She went, and returned to earth in an enthusiastic aeronaut. Since then she has made more than a hundred voyages, and her own balloon, which has been entered by the members of the Aero Club in token of their appreciation of her pluck. She has made four voyages across the Channel, and on one of the occasions a descent in France in a storm, was pitched out of the car as it bumped on the ground. "I claim, therefore," humorously remarks Mrs. Harbord, "to be the only woman who has landed in France on her head."

Why is an anecdote book like a book-seller's shop?—It contains many authors.

"LOUD LAUGHTER"

When Paddy's Wit Has Made the Rafter's Ring

In the Law Courts the Irishman is seen at his best. For instance, has usually a clear idea of the meaning of an alibi, but he is rarely able to express himself in very legal terms.

During a recent trial a judge asked witness if he knew the meaning of an alibi.

"Yes, yer honor," said Pat. "It's like this—it's to be ather provin' that ye wasn't whro ye was whin ye committed a crime, that, shure, ye never committed at all."

On another occasion, when a prisoner was trying to convince a judge and jury of his innocence of a certain crime, he said:

"It's not meself as is ather trying to desave yer honor; I did it hit the dead gentleman at all. It was him that ather hit the blow; an' the exarion killed him; an' what's more, wasn't there at the time!"

"I see, you are trying to prove an alibi," said the judge.

"An alibi!" exclaimed the prisoner.

"Yes," said the judge. "Can you tell me what a good alibi is?"

"Faith, yer honor," said the prisoner. "It's a lot bot which the prisoner gets off!"

"What passed between you and the complainant?" another Irishman was asked.

"Think, sor," answered Murphy. "about six bricks an' a piece of paving-stone!"

"Now, Pat, what brought you here again?" asked a justice of an old offender.

"Two policemen, sor," was the reply.

"Drunk, I suppose?" queried the magistrate.

"Yes, sor; both av thim."

"Are you married or single?" asked a Galt of a prisoner before him.

"Single, please, yer honor."

"Oh, then it's a good thing for your wife!" said the magistrate.

Even some Irish judges are not above showing their acquaintance with their native Bliarney-stone. Recently, while one was delivering judgment in an action brought by two ladies, he remarked:

"Everything in this case is plain, except Mrs. Murphy and her charming daughter."

"Were you ever up before me?" asked a magistrate.

"Shure, I don't know," was the reply. "What time does your honor get in?"

"But the evidence," said a judge, in another case, "shows that you threw a stone in this case."

"An' the looks av the man shows I go back to your mother."

"Am!" was Mr. O'Toole's trenchant reply.

"The prisoner hit you with a brick, did he?" asked the judge.

"Yes, yer honor," was the reply.

"But it seems he didn't quite kill you, did he?" continued the judge.

"No, had less to him," said the complainant; "but it's wishin' he had, Oi do be."

"Why?" asked the judge.

"Begorra, then I'd have seen the man through for murdering!"

"Why didn't you go to the assistance of the complainant?" was asked of an Irish policeman.

"Shure, Oi didn't know which of thim was goin' to be complainant," answered the man blase.

"And so I understand that Patrick Blarney was your uncle?" said a counsel in the course of cross-examination.

"He was, till the bill killed him," was the reply.

An Irish barrister, defending a prisoner who was the father of a large family, wound up his speech by saying:

"And, gentlemen of the jury, think of all the little ones at home depending on this man for bread—their daily bread; remember he is their father—their only father!"

A BAD OLD KING AND HIS DAUGHTERS

Once upon a time there was a king who had three very beautiful daughters. Their names were Hekia, Thekla, and Samantha, and the three had the most beautiful heads of hair.

Hekia was very fair, with pale-blue eyes; Thekla's hair was like a beautiful red-gold; while Samantha's eyes were very deep, deep blue, like the summer sea, and her hair was like a beautiful summer sea, and then they hastened to see the old King.

"Are you quite sure you have made up your mind which Princess you want?" he asked.

"Quite sure. The third on the right as she sat at the window."

Then the old King said:

"Very well; only before you have her, to make quite sure, you shall choose her again, and remember, my dear, he added, with a wicked grin, if you choose wrong you shall never go back to your mother."

So he led the aspiring Princess into another room, where the Princesses sat in a row with their backs turned, and only their wonderful hair to be seen.

"The lovely golden hair of Hekia and the deep blue eyes could only go with hair like a watery sunset."

Or sometimes they said:

"Blue eyes like mine, the summer sea, could only belong to the maiden with hair like burnished gold."

But no one thought that red-haired Samantha was the one he really wanted.

Then the old King would laugh a scornful laugh and press a little button, and the poor young Prince dropped down through a trap-door into the dungeon below, and never went back to his mother.

But one day there came a Prince to woo the beautiful maidens, and he had an artistic eye.

He looked at them in a row by the window in their little white caps, and he said to himself:

"She ought to have red hair, that maid with eyes like the summer sea."

So he went to the bad old King, and braved the danger of the dungeon, and when he came into the presence of the long-haired maidens, he marched straight up to Samantha and cried:

"Only red hair like this could go with deep blue eyes."

Samantha rose and turned to him, and he was so dazzled by her wondrous beauty that he could not speak.

"He stumped with very angry because his favorite game was taken from him, now that a Prince had chosen rightly."

He stamped with his foot, and behold! the trap-door opened and in he fell, and was never seen any more.

Then Samantha and the Prince were married, and lived happily ever after, and red hair became the fashion for that part of the world.

A TOUCHING EPIGRAPH

A great rarity—an epigraph, rich in true feeling—may be read on a headstone in Grenley Churchyard. Walking there alone one day, the Dorset poet, William Barnes, was accented by a little girl who pushed aside some encroaching blossoms, which hid the lettering, to show him a verse her father put above her mother's grave.

"To tell," explained the little maid, "how much he loved her."

Old God, dear Meary, g'e me grace To vind' lik' thee, a better place. Where I wounce mowre mid see thy face;

An' bring th' children up to know His word, that they mid come an' show Thy soul how much I lov'd thee.

"Mid" in Dorset stands for "may" or "might," and is the only word in the English language, that pierces by its simplicity to the very marrow of the soul. It is not as easily understood as ordinary English.

TOLD BY GRAVESTONES

During the course of a lesson at one of the schools in Oxford, the teacher, referring incidentally to the death of Tolstoy, asked the scholars what was usually inscribed on gravestones. He got various answers, such as "Persons" etc.

"Yes," said the teacher; "anything else?"

There was silence for a moment, then a bright-faced boy shot up his hand.

"Please, sir," he said, "it tells whether the people are insured or not."

"Insured?" asked the teacher. "How do you make that out?"

"Please, sir," was the answer, "I saw on a gravestone, 'In sure (insure) and certain hope.'"

FROM A SOUTH WINDOW

IN CANADA

"Love, Laughter and Life"

GRANDEST THING IN THE WORLD

Things cannot always go at the same level, says the Family Journal. A day is bound to come when an upward turn in our luck is arrived at. It is a long lane that has no turning. Every cloud has a silver lining. We can usually find some little peg on which to tether our hopes for better days. "Folks make out that it's foolish to be an optimist," said a village philosopher one day. "They say that you hope so much that you're bound to be disappointed. To which I just say, that there's such a lot of real pleasure in hoping, and you get so much fun out of it, that you don't feel the disappointment so much." There is a lot of pleasure in hoping. It is a sign that we have not given in yet, that we're still making a fight. Hope—who continues to hope can never be wholly conquered. Hope—real hope—is the grandest thing in the world. Keep your hope, whatever else you lose. Have hope. Wait and hope. Remember that the tide sinks but rises again, that never a night comes but has its morning to follow it, and, combining hope with endeavor, you will win through.

PULL UP THE BLINDS

Careful housewives draw down the blinds in sunny weather to save the carpets. This is a penny wise and pound foolish policy, for nothing keeps sickness out of the house so effectively, as plenty of sunlight. There is an instructive experiment made recently on the effects of sunlight. Some germs of the terrible disease, anthrax, were sown on two plates of gelatine, and while one plate was kept in the dark, the other was placed in the sunlight. The germs grew, and at the end of ten minutes there were 360 colonies on groups, in the sunshine plate, 400 colonies in the dark plate.

One hour later the result was: In the sunshine plate, 0; in the dark plate, 2,520. Every kind of disease germ is killed by sunshine. River water contaminated by sewage, and teeming with typhoid and other germs, becomes quite free from them after flowing some distance in the sun. The seeds of smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, etc., are all killed off in the same way. Moreover, young children grow bigger and heavier with plenty of light in the house. Therefore, every one should make the best use of the summer sun by keeping the blinds up.

A MARRIAGE PLEDGE

What the Woman Says in Reformed Jewish Ceremony

When a very fastidious girl meets at last the man who fulfills her ideal, it is a wonderful thing to observe the completeness of her happiness. On the man's part, too, it is rarely that he could find so exalted a type of womanhood as our friend. She seems to have everything, and reminds me of Mrs. Barrett Browning's poem in "The Jew's Kate." Don't you hope they may be very happy? Let us revertently wish that he may not turn out a masterful man, for she will be only too submissive. How many men have been ruined in character by that little word "obey" in our marriage service! It has turned them into tyrannical despots. Ours and the Roman Church are almost alone in requiring this vow of obedience. In the beautiful pledge of the reformed Jewish Church there is nothing of the kind. The wife says, "I do solemnly enter into the holy and affectionate covenant to take thee to be my lawful wedded husband in the presence of God and the presence of all who are here assembled; and to link my heart to thy heart, and my destiny to thy destiny, and to be called by thy name. I solemnly vow to be to thee a true, affectionate, and constant wife, and to stand faithfully by thy side, whether in health or sickness, whether in prosperity or adversity. Thy sorrow shall be my sorrow, and thy happiness and well-being shall be mine. So help me God."

In the Greek Church there is a mutual promise of fidelity, love, help, and kind treatment. The Society of Friends has a very brief marriage vow. The man first, the bride after him, address the meeting in these words, "Friends, I take this, my friend, to be my wife (husband), promising, through Divine assistance, to be unto her (him) a loving and faithful husband (wife) until it shall please the Lord by death to separate us." No vow of obedience is required from the wife.—The Gentlewoman.

BLACK AND WHITE

An odd, but smart suit of white serge, braided as shown in above cut with black silk soutache braid. Note the unique cut of skirt and also of bodice, the latter made in pleated style and laced on both sides. The lacing is done in an artistic way, the bodice and collar has tiny revers of white tulle, opening over a chemise and stock of Valenciennes lace. A heavy white cord and tassel serves as additional decoration in front of bodice.

A NOVEL IRON

Held Upright on Table Edge and Gaps Passed Over it

A novel type of iron has been devised by an Illinois man for use particularly on ruffles, garters, sleeves, flounces, baby clothes, etc. Pieces of iron are difficult to get around with the old-style iron, so that every wrinkle is smoothed out. The implement shown in the illustration has a holder which clicks to the edge of the kitchen table. The iron

USE FOR AN OLD BLOUSE

A white linen shirt blouse has seen its best days makes a very good under-bodice. Take out the sleeves, and cut the neck low. At the waist sew into a narrow band; you will find you have a very serviceable garment.

USEFUL IDEAS

Pastry that is to be eaten cold should be mixed with milk. Keeps long and crisp longer than it mixed with water.

Jelly moulds should be rinsed in hot water, then steeped in cold water for ten minutes before being filled with jelly.

A bowl of fowl should be skinned before cooking, as the skin sometimes gives a bitter taste to the water the fowl is boiled in.

CENSUS RETURNS DISAPPOINTING.

That the census returns are disappointing to citizens of Red Deer goes without saying.

That they do not accurately represent the population of this town is also true.

Red Deer has a population of 3,000 at the present time, and we believe this can be verified almost any day by a police census.

What we mean by this is that North, South, East and West Red Deer should be included.

Unfortunately, the town's boundaries are very limited, and therefore North Red Deer with over 300 population, East Red Deer with over a hundred, and west and south, and the people left off the regular census, and the phenomenal growth since the census was taken, will easily bring our population up to over three thousand at the present time.

Never in the history of the town has there been a more optimistic feeling than at the present time. Not a house to rent, and contractors making frantic efforts to get residences built in time to accommodate the people who have rented them in advance.

As it is, Red Deer now stands as the largest town in the Province of Alberta, and fifth largest centre of population, as the order is Calgary, Edmonton (including Strathcona), Lethbridge, Medicine Hat and then Red Deer, as Wetaskiwin's population is only 2,411.

But this paltry three thousand population does not begin to do justice to Red Deer, as we have every facility that a town of three times the population has.

We have a live, energetic, virile people, who are just now determined the old town is going to go and nothing can stay the forward march. Red Deer is going to become the metropolis of the middle west, and don't you forget it.

THE A. AND G. W. QUESTION NOT SETTLED.

Some good people seem to think the Alberta and Great Waterway question is settled because Judge Stuart gave a decision in favor of the province, but his decision could not but give one the impression that the best way out of the vexed question was to give judgement in favor of the province, knowing full well in his heart that it would be referred to the Privy Council eventually, where vested interests are held sacred by the members of this court of last resort. The Edmonton Journal sums up the question pretty thoroughly when it says:

When one finds bottom in the flow of verbiage with which the newspaper apologists for Premier Sifton are trying to make the people at large believe that the Royal Bank has been commanded to hand over the six million dollars it holds out of the seven million four hundred thousand dollars of the A. and G. W. money, the fallacies, with which his northern railway policy is surrounded become revealed. The money is alluded to as though it were already in the hands of the premier. A jubilant note is struck. The impression is left that the premier is over-rejoiced with the success of his sledge-hammering method of conducting business. No thought is left for the debt of four millions the province has incurred since he became premier.

Possibly the friends of the premier have been afraid to read the first part of the judge's decision. It was carefully expurgated from the dispatches sent many outside papers. But the judge states as clearly as the English language will permit that he only gave the decision to get the case out of the way. He did it hastily, without taking time to go fully either into the law quoted or the arguments laid before him. He did not have to give a decision when he did. If he had a mind to, he need not have given a decision until after the legislative met, and the premier had outlined his railway policy. Many lawyers imagined he would take the Christmas vacation to go into the whole case with the thoroughness the public assumed he would. He thought otherwise, for, as he said, the case is to be taken to the higher courts. It is. The bank has stated through its counsel that if necessary the case will be taken to the privy council at London. Then why do the Sifton apologists try to make people believe money is in the hands of the Sifton administration? It is a poor trick. It shows how shaky is the Sifton administration.

Why all this devious reasoning in the press announcements of the policy of Mr. Sifton? Sifton intends proffering Alberta on a tin snuff? When he was riding the high horse not so long ago, he declared his policy would never see the light of day through any newspaper. Circumstances alter cases. The situation is changed. He is no longer the Silent Omnipotence. He needs advertising. But good articles always stand the test of truthful statement. Only spurious goods need bolstering with fallacies. Will the Sifton policy prove the best Alberta can have? Will it be any more economical than the A. and G. W. Is it not dependent upon the will of Mackenzie and Mann? Defects were to be found easily enough in the A. and G. W. Some, rightly enough, pointed to its ineffectiveness. But what about this for an application for a railroad charter designed to be a part of the Sifton railroad policy for the north? Mackenzie and Mann are applying to the legislature for a charter to build a railroad from a point on the Canadian Northern railway at or near Edmonton; thence in a north-easterly and easterly direction on the north side of the North Saskatchewan river to the eastern boundary of the province of Alberta. How is that for vagueness? To whose timber line it may that lead?

Those newspapers through which Premier Sifton's facile mind tries to convey fallacies to the public speak as though he can be the sole owner of a railroad policy and that the north country is solely dependent upon him for its salvation. It has not got much from him so far. His deeds are few.

Others can frame a railroad policy for the north, and make it a great deal better for Alberta than anything Arthur L. Sifton will be willing to give.

GOLD IN THE RED DEER.

It has been a surprise to some people that valuable gold deposits have been discovered on the Red Deer river east of town. But to old timers this is no surprise. Gold can be found in the Red Deer river at any time and in almost any place. The only drawback is that the gold is not found in paying quantities. This is a common failing in all gold districts. But there is no good reason why a hundred places could not be found on the river where gold in great abundance exists. The Albertans say, since the announcement inquiries have been received in Calgary as to the authenticity of the report, and one man in Iowa who owns farm land in the district is so greatly interested in the report that he has wired for details and intimated that he will leave his home and open a gold mine on his property instead of a farm as first intended.

He has been advised by his friend in the city to postpone his contemplated mine opening until more detailed information is forthcoming.

MR. MAGRATH'S APPOINTMENT.

The government is very fortunate in being able to secure such a man as Mr. C. A. Magrath, M.P., for the International Waterways Commission. He is an expert on the subjects with which that board has to deal, and the necessity of having them handled in proper fashion no one will dispute, inasmuch as any laxity might give rise to friction with our neighbors, or to the sacrifice of very essential rights on our part.

Coming on top of the appointment to the National Transcontinental commission of an engineer of high standing such as Mr. Leonard, Mr. Magrath's selection will give the public an idea of the qualifications that Mr. Borden looks for in the men to whom he entrusts large responsibilities.

The pity is, however, that Mr. Magrath will not be able to discharge these duties and hold a seat in parliament. He was a most useful member, and the hope has been generally expressed that means would be found at an early date which would allow him to re-enter the commons.—Edmonton Journal.

A COMIC CONFERENCE.

(Calgary Herald)
There is a sublimity of nerve in the solemn conference now being held in Edmonton between Premier Scott of Saskatchewan and Premier Sifton of Alberta regarding the natural resources of the two provinces. Mr. Scott is perfectly willing to do anything in his power to embarrass Hon. L. Borden on this subject, even to the extent of making himself a positive joke in the effort. It was Premier Scott who in 1905 gave away the natural resources of Saskatchewan in exchange for political office. He is one of the Liberals who sacrificed the people of these two provinces to the Ottawa government on the altar of political greed. It was Premier Sifton's immediate predecessor in Alberta who did exactly the same thing. The reason why Alberta and Saskatchewan do not possess their natural resources is because of a corrupt bargain made between Premier Scott and the predecessor of Premier Sifton on the one hand and the Liberal government in Ottawa on the other. There is an element of humor in these two gentlemen now meeting to demand the resources which they themselves sacrificed.

NEXT YEAR TO BE RECORD BREAKER FOR RAILROAD CONSTRUCTION IN ALBERTA

RED DEER TO BE THE CENTRE

(Calgary News Telegram)
More railroad work will be done in Alberta during the coming spring and summer than in any other year in the history of the North-West, and 1912 will go down in history as the railroad year of Alberta," said J. Carlyle Moore, of Red Deer, head of the Central Alberta Railway, who is in Calgary today.

Mr. Moore stated that while the heavy fall of snow experienced in the past few weeks had for the time being stopped all work on the line with which he is connected, and which, when completed, will run from the Brazeau coal fields, through Red Deer and on to Moose Jaw, work would be continued as soon as possible, and that many of the small bridges needed by the road would be built during the winter so that when work started in the spring it could be rushed to an early completion.

Mr. Moore is a guest at the Alexandra while in the city.

RED DEER HAS HAD A VERY BUSY YEAR

J. R. Davison Tells of Activity in Railway Construction in the District

(Calgary Herald)
J. R. Davison, publicity commissioner for the town of Red Deer, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Davison says the past season has seen an unprecedented activity in railway construction in the town and district of Red Deer. The recent severe frosts have practically tied up the work now except on the rock cuts and muckings on the Brazeau branch of the C.N.R. The company is now establishing log camps and the work will be prosecuted throughout the winter.

The company is also establishing and equipping a hospital at the Rocky Mountain House. The C.N.R. is also busy constructing the approaches to the bridge across the river in the town of Red Deer. Steel is now being laid and the construction department expects to reach a point opposite the Rocky Mountain House on the Red Deer river before the end of the year. The company is now taking out big supplies of staples and will make a cache at the Mountain House so that everything will be in readiness for the prosecution of the work when spring opens up.

C.P.R. ALSO ACTIVE.

The C.P.R. which is building west from Red Deer under the charter of the Alberta Central railway, has also had a very busy season. The ultimate destination of this line is believed to be the Yellowhead pass. The line now being built from Moose Jaw northwest will connect with the work now carried out by Red Deer and it is believed to be the plan of the company, at some future date, to run trains right through from Minneapolis by the Soo line, northwesterly through Red Deer to the Yellowhead pass and then down the North Thompson river, which they are now surveying, to join the present main line at Kamloops.

All grading on the Alberta Central has now ceased owing to the advent of winter but the company is busy with its bridges.

Mr. Davison says that business in Red Deer has been exceedingly active all through the year owing to the unprecedented activity in railway construction. Collections, he says, are also good, although a greater portion of the crop has not been threshed as yet.

The Census Figures

Red Deer is Largest Town in the Province

The census department at Ottawa last week gave out the figures of the incorporated cities, towns and villages in western Canada. Below will be found a comparison of the population of Alberta cities and towns with the census in 1906 and 1907. Most of the places have made some gains. Red Deer doubled in the five years and shows a steady growth, coming fifth in importance among the cities and towns in this great province, as Strathcona has now joined hands with Edmonton.

Railway Notes

Though the cold weather from Tuesday to Tuesday had stopped most of the grading and construction work in the district, the A.C.R. have been blasting the surface earth to allow of the carrying on of the tracklaying to the new steel bridge over the Red Deer river west, on which the steel construction will be carried on this winter. The bridge is 125 feet high and one half of a mile long, so the placing of the steel superstructure is a pretty cold contract.

The contractors who are building the steel viaduct over the A.C.R. expect to finish in two weeks time. As soon as this bridge is completed steel will be laid east to the station site, where a large material yard will be laid out.

The C.N.R. have been blasting in some cuts between Ekelville and Leesville, and will carry on the laying of steel over the muskeg in order to get two years' supplies to Rocky Mountain House this year. They are establishing log camps at all rock cuttings, where work will be carried on during the winter. West of the Mountain House they are putting in caches and stopping places, and a 100 foot warehouse at the Mountain House will also be built.

The A.C.R. will do a great deal of monkey and road work, the material being more easily handled when frozen than in summer.

The Northern Construction Co. will winter 2000 horses and mules at Red Deer.

The C.N.R. contractors have got three dinky engines and thirty cars here and expect two steam shovels, shortly to work all winter on the cuts on the Strathcona to Calgary branch through the hills just north of the river.

The A.C.R. expect to proceed with the east line next year.

Owing to the freezing up of the following creeks the Saskatchewan river at Rocky Mountain House fell 8 inches in one night, and the forty got stuck. C.N.R. subcontractor Carroll forded both the Clearwater and Saskatchewan on Wednesday and on the following Sunday drove across the ice with a four-horse team.

The C.P. Railway have added a large new boiler to their engine house here and are just finishing installing it.

Legislature Will Meet November 30th

House Will Meet Until Christmas, When There Will Be an Adjournment Until the New Year

Edmonton, Nov. 6th.—The date of the opening of the provincial legislature has been postponed from Nov. 16th to Nov. 30th. The session, which will be the third of the second legislature of Alberta, will be held in the capital building, the legislative chamber of which is now practically ready for occupancy. Owing to the lateness in the year for the opening of the session it is unlikely that the large amount of business before the house will be transacted before Christmas, and an adjournment will be necessary and the house will meet early in the new year after a short recess.

Beware of Blood Poison.

Zam-Buk is a Sure Cure.
Mr. Jas. Davey, of 786 E. Ave. Ave., Winnipeg, says:—"A few months since I was cured of a poisoned finger through the timely use of Zam-Buk."

"I cut a deep gash across the knuckle of the first finger on my right hand in opening a lobster can. I suffered at the time with the soreness and pain, but had no idea it would become a serious wound. However, in about two days I was greatly alarmed as my whole hand and arm to the elbow became suddenly inflamed, and the finger was much discolored, showing signs of blood poisoning. The pain was dreadful and I was forced to leave off my work and go home."

"The wound on the knuckle had been poisoned by dust and dirt getting into it. I then decided to start the Zam-Buk treatment, and having first bathed the cut, I applied the healing balm. It soothed the pain almost instantly, and by next day there was a great improvement."

"In a week's time, through perseverance with this wonderful preparation, a complete cure was brought about."

Zam-Buk is just as good for eczema, ulcers, scalp sores, abscesses, piles, ringworm, boils, varicose ulcers, running sores, cold sores, chapped hands, etc. It draws all poisonous foulness from a wound or sore and then heals. Use it, too, for cuts, burns, bruises and all skin injuries. Zam-Buk soap should be used in conjunction to the balm for washing wounds and sore places. Excellent too for baby's bath."

All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box and Zam-Buk Soap at 25c. tablet. Post free upon receipt of price from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

A Talk on Advertising

The advertising science is anything but exact. It is an easy matter to diagnose symptoms. But in advertising, as in medicine, very different causes produce very similar disturbances; eye strain; a wabbling steamer deck, or green watermelon; each means in upset stomach.

But there are some broad general principles which are as permanent as the eternal hills. The advertiser must be fed. The advertiser scores every time he produces a new topic of conversation. If he fails to make people talk about his goods he makes them talk about himself. They wash with his soap or drink his tea or rub on his axle grease just to get in touch with him.

Talk can be created about the most commonplace things; baked beans or tooth powder or linen collars. You need only to know what switch to turn on.

Human nature has not differed for six thousand years; but the point of view is constantly changing.

If the people remained the same; if business conditions remained the same; if society and the weather remained the same, then the advertising of last year would apply this year. But it doesn't. The point of view is different. We are in a continuous turmoil of change. The successful advertiser must live right up even with the clock. An advertisement that made a big hit last year may fall flat and dead this year. There is in everything a fullness of time; a season when the fruit is ripe; periods when all conditions seem to lend themselves to success. The advertiser must have discernment sharp enough and vision clear enough to know the year and the month and the day of the month in which the people are not only living, but in which they are thinking.

Make goods or entertainment or social position hard to obtain or scarce in amount and then it is that people fall over each other in the mad rush to see somebody else get left. The moment you put up the bars and say "don't" then it is that people want to climb. The sweetest apples in your neighbor's orchard are those on the tree nearest the dog.

The newspaper which maintains an absolute unbreakable advertising rate commands the largest patronage. The spirit of independence creates confidence. To coax the customer is to discount the value of your goods.

Local and General

Mrs. Girvin, convicted of setting fire to the building of the LaSalle Produce Co., has lost her appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada, and must serve her penitentiary sentence. Sheriff Moller and Mr. H. V. French went to Edmonton on Thursday to visit Mr. Stanley Haydon, who is in the Misericordia hospital there, being treated for throat trouble.

The body of a man who apparently died three or four months ago was found near the banks of the Red Deer River, near Munson, on Thursday morning. The body has been exposed so long that identification is impossible. The discovery was made by a rancher looking for cattle.

Alix Free Press.—It is reported that the big high level bridge of the G.T.P. Railway crossing the Red Deer River at Lignite has been found faulty at the base of the structural iron work. The cement piers which support the iron work were supposed to be resting on solid rock but which has since proven to be a shell of coal which having settled puts the bridge out of alignment.

Marquis Wheat Wins Championship of America and $1,000 in Gold

The Province of Saskatchewan again demonstrates its superb wheat growing possibilities. Word has recently come to hand that the Sir Thomas Shaughnessy prize of $1000 in gold for the best one hundred (100) pounds of wheat in America has been won by a Saskatchewan farmer, Sonner Wheeler of Rosethorn, with Marquis wheat. Mr. Wheeler is an Englishman who settled in the Rosethorn district eighteen years ago. He is a specialist in seed growing, being an operative member of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association. He is a prominent member of the Rosethorn Agricultural Society and last year won the Good Farming Competition for his district.

The wheat that won the prize is a new variety, named Marquis, which has been grown by Mr. Wheeler for two years. It is an offspring of Red Fife and ripens from eight to ten days earlier. Mr. Wheeler's yield this year was 70 bushels per acre from one field and 80 bushels per acre from another. It is interesting to note that Mr. Wheeler paid the C.P.R. $3 per acre for his farm eighteen years ago and for two bushels of his Marquis wheat he has received from the C.P.R. nearly the whole purchase price of his farm. The surplus of this celebrated wheat was all sold for $8.00 per bushel to the Mooney Seed Co., of Regina. We need more men like Mr. Wheeler and then Saskatchewan will come to her own.

Working Again on A. C. R. Bridge

(Rocky Moplain House Echo.)
The Geo. H. Archibald Co. of Winnipeg, again started work the week before last on the A.C.R. bridge across the Saskatchewan River at this point. The work is in charge of Mr. Hedenmark, Mr. Berry of Edmonton, being labor foreman. They have not got on a full gang yet but are engaging men all the time, and will have things going in full swing as soon as possible. It is expected they will have the concrete work completed by next March or April.

MRS. ANDERSON Tells How After Giving Up Hope She Was Cured of Dandruff.

After reading this straightforward statement of Mrs. Elizabeth E. Anderson, of Mechanicburg, Pa., go to Gutz-Connert Drug & Book Co., get a large bottle of Parisian Sage for only 50 cents, and if it don't do for you what it did for Mrs. Anderson, they will give you your money back. Just read this letter, it's worth your while:

"I had given up hope of ever being cured of dandruff, when I purchased a bottle of Parisian Sage. It has entirely removed the dandruff, and has started a growth of new hair, and all this after having been troubled for 15 years. I cheerfully recommend Parisian Sage."
Parisian Sage cures dandruff, because it gets right down into the roots of the hair and kills the thousands of pernicious dandruff germs. Since the introduction of Parisian Sage into Canada, it has been in demand by thousands of up-to-date society women. Parisian Sage will turn harsh, lusterless, ill looking hair into bright, luxuriant hair in a few days. It is a delightful and invigorating dressing, contains no dye or harmful ingredients and is not sticky or greasy. The girl with the auburn hair on every package.
